Writing inspiration

You are the tennis ball. You are in the hands of the player. Write about your experience as the game of tennis begins.

She gripped me tightly in her fingers. I could tell exactly what was about to happen...

Without warning, I felt myself being flung high into the air. For a moment it felt like I was flying as the wind rushed past me. I could see myself glowing a gloriously bright shade of yellow in the glistening sunshine as it poured down upon the court.

As I reached the pinnacle of my flight, I glanced down and saw her reaching up towards me with her racquet.

Then, it happened...

Everything blurred; my whole world went out of shape for an instant. I was hit by a wall of confusion and I felt totally disorientated. It wasn't until I sailed over the top of the net that I came to my senses and realised what had happened...
